Parker committed 'technical violation', report says

Investigation ends, no charges

But, Sir,
What Is a Smoke-House?

It is the habit of this newspaper to print over the page one name-plate a barbed one-liner under the label "The Editor Says." Most of the time it's an original but on occasion we borrow a line with credit. The various lines run in rotation, a week for each barb. The point of this article is to tell you what happened when the current "line" first hit the street. The line reads:

"The trouble with our Country is: The garage is where the smoke-house ought to be." It was authored by the late Brown Turner, born at Ozan in our county in a family which produced six printer sons. The father founded the semi-weekly Nashville (Ark.) News. I met Brown Turner in 1924 when he was a Linotype operator for the El Dorado (Ark.) Daily News. Brown hit me up (I was associate editor) for an editorial job. I put him on the telegraph desk, and he handled features on the side. He was a natural. Later on he was feature editor of the Sunday Nashville (Tenn.) Tennessean, and on the copy desk of the Kansas City Star.

His "smoke-house" line first appeared in my column at El Dorado while I was on vacation 48 years ago. The Brown Turner "line" hit the street here for the first time Monday, July 17, 1972.

A local teen-ager looked up from her paper and asked me: "But, sir, what is a smoke-house?"

Maybe it was a study in futility, but since she asked me I told her. I said that nowadays in the South they cured ham and other pork items by painting the meat with "liquid smoke"—but the original method still used in the Northern states is to fire up a smoke-house with hickory wood and cure all the pork in one operation. Usually the fire would be stoked for a full week. Meat-curing requires cold weather, and when late October clamped an iron hand on the Northern landscape you would see scores of smoke streamers across the mountains—and you knew it was hog-killing time, and hog-curing time.

That, my friend, is what a smoke-house is all about. But the telling of my tale left me pessimistic. The smoke-house is a symbol of the self-sufficiency our ancestors knew—and which much of America has lost in this day of automation and laborless service. I felt that one who didn't know what a smoke-house was might be equally innocent as to the character and purpose of a vegetable garden.

The investigation into alleged irregularities concerning the May 30 election here ended today with a statement by Prosecuting Attorney Dub Arnold of Arkadelphia who said that "technical" violation of an Arkansas statute did occur, but that charges would not be filed because there was no evidence of criminal intent.

An investigation was started after reports were made to the prosecuting attorney's office concerning the opening of the absentee box following the Democratic preferential primary. Arnold said Donal Parker, chairman of the Hempstead County Democratic Central Committee, apparently entered the box to check the votes cast in a specific race — the county committeeman contest in the Spring Hill Township between incumbent Garland Kidd and W.E. Tarpley. Tarpley won the election by a single vote. Parker denied entering the box on several occasions.

The announcement of the investigation was preceded by a brief meeting on July 5 between Arnold, John Robert Graves, deputy prosecuting attorney, County Sheriff Henry Sinyard, Parker, and Leo Ray of Hope. A reporter for the Star requested entrance to the meeting, but the request was refused by Arnold. He likened the meeting to a grand jury investigation and said testimony would be taken. Following the meeting, Arnold told the reporter that felony charges would be filed against Parker in connection with the case.

Arnold wrote out the information for the arrest warrant on a legal pad, gave it to Graves and instructed him to transfer it to a technical information sheet and file it with the county clerk.

Bill to boost wages passed

WASHINGTON (AP) — The Senate has voted to boost the minimum hourly wage to $2.20, a move that could bring bigger paychecks to millions of workers and more labor support for Democratic presidential nominee George McGovern.

The increase from the present minimum of $1.60 was the largest single pay hike in history. It came after McGovern made a special trip from his vacation retreat in South Dakota to cast his vote.

The bill extends coverage to 7.4 million additional workers, including 1.2 million domestic servants, 1 million chain store employees and 4.9 million federal, state and local government employees.

It now goes to a House-Senate conferees to reconcile differences between the Senate version and one approved earlier by the House which provides a $2.00 minimum pay scale.

The Senate approved the measure by a vote of 65 to 27 Thursday night after defeating the Nixon administration's proposal for a $2.00 minimum by a 47 to 46 vote.

Backers of McGovern hoped his vote would improve his image with labor. The $2.20 minimum was a key goal of the AFL-CIO in this legislative session. McGovern was not endorsed by the AFL-CIO executive council.

The bill passed the Senate after two amendments postponed the effective date of the $2.20 minimum to two years, instead of one, and eliminated 1 million employees in retail and service establishments doing less than $250,000 annual business. As approved, the minimum wage would jump from $1.60 to $2.00 for most non-farm workers 60 days after enactment, and to the full $2.20 in two years.

The present minimum of $1.30 for workers on large farms would be raised to $2.20 in three years. The bill also repeals exemptions which now prevent many workers from getting overtime pay.

Sens. Peter H. Dominick, R-Colo., and Robert Taft, R-Ohio, sponsors of the administration's bill, said the Democrats' proposal was inflationary and would undermine Nixon's economic stabilization effort.

McGovern tries to strengthen ties to labor

WASHINGTON (AP) — After returning briefly to Washington to strengthen his fragile ties with labor, Democratic Presidential nominee George McGovern today headed for South Dakota to resume his vacation and plot autumn campaign strategy.

McGovern won fresh offers of support during his 26-hour stopover in Washington and named former Democratic National Committee chairman Lawrence F. O'Brien to his campaign staff to recruit support from reluctant labor and party leaders.

The South Dakota Democrat spent most of his time Thursday on the Senate floor where his vote helped defeat by a narrow 47 to 46 margin a GOP-backed bill designed to scuttle a Democratic-supported measure to raise the minimum wage from $1.60 to $2.20 an hour, plus fringe benefits.

McGovern announced his selection of O'Brien to serve as one of his top three advisors at a news conference attended by vice presidential nominee Thomas F. Eagleton.

At the same time, McGovern said he soon expected to have the endorsements of union leaders representing 10 million of the 13.5 million membership of the AFL-CIO.

Suit against sewer district filed

Seven residents of the Hope Municipal Sewer Improvement District No. 5 have filed suit against the district charging that the Board of Assessors failed to assess the realty in a "fair, impartial, equitable and legal manner."

The district includes a section of State Highway 29 north of the city limits past the I-30 intersection.

Boyd Tackett of Texarkana, filed the suit in Hempstead Chancery Court for Mrs. William Stevenson, Tilmon V.

Wood, Earl H. Pool, J. T. May, Mrs. W. A. Pool, Luther Galloway and Ray Honeycutt.

The suit also charges 1) that the district's commissioners did not furnish the city directors with plans for and estimates of the cost of the improvements; 2) that the facilities and operation of the district will exceed in cost 80 per cent of the value of each parcel of realty within the district; 3) that the purported assessments are "grossly excessive"; 4) that the sewer improvements will not benefit a great percentage of the landowners; 5) that the assessors—Arthur Stretch, Dean Murphy and Carter Russell—will benefit from their assessments by virtue of owning lands within the district.

The suit also requests that the Board of Assessors be discharged and that a new panel of appraisers be appointed. It also requests that all proceedings concerning the operation and activities of the district be declared null and void.

James Pilkinton of Hope, attorney for the district told the Star this morning that "We (district) will file a prompt answer to the suit and will ask for an immediate trial. This matter is of great public importance and should not be delayed."

Pilkinton also said that the district has contracted to sell $121,000 in bonds for the sewer improvements to Stephens, Inc. of Little Rock at a "very reasonable rate"—six per cent. Bids have been taken on the project, but no work order has been issued.

Prescott youth dies in accident

Westley Bennett Morrow, 15, of Prescott was killed about 3 p.m. yesterday in a one-vehicle accident on a county road about five miles north of Prescott.

Morrow and two other youths were riding in a truck on the gravel road, the Nevada County sheriff's office said. The truck ran into the ditch, bounced up an embankment and overturned. All the occupants were thrown from the vehicle, a spokesman for the department said.

Morrow was pronounced dead on arrival at the Nevada County Hospital.

One of the passengers, Dwight Craig, 17, suffered minor injuries in the accident; the other passenger was not immediately identified. Morrow was the son of Mr. and Mrs. H. D. Morrow of Rt. 5, Prescott.

Purchasing power hike is biggest in history

WASHINGTON (AP) — Living costs rose a relatively modest two-tenths of one per cent last month and purchasing power of the average American workers' paycheck showed the highest yearly gain on record, the government said today.

The rise in consumer prices, chipping two cents off the value of each $10 in June, was due to a sharp increase in food prices and lesser increases for used cars, homes and household services, the Labor Department said.

The June rise in living costs pushed the Consumer Price Index up to 125.0 of its 1967 base of 100. This meant it took $12.50 last month for every $10 worth of typical family purchases five years ago.

The report, by the department's Bureau of Labor Statistics, said the rise in living costs in the past year was 2.9 per cent, the first annual rise under 3 per cent in the past five years.

The bureau also reported that average earnings of some 50 million rank-and-file workers—more than half the nation's work force—rose $2.18 per cent to $135.39 for the month. This was due to a one-cent rise in hourly pay and a half-hour increase in the length of the average work week.

The average paycheck was up $7.82 or 6.1 per cent over the past year. After deductions for the rise in living costs over the year, the gain was 3.2 per cent or about $3.90 per week in purchasing power.

"This is the largest over-the-year increase in real earnings (purchasing power) for any June since the series became available on a monthly basis in 1964," the bureau said.

Fighting fire with brimstone

ATHENS, Ala. (AP) — The church elders who fired a minister after his daughter wore a swimsuit in a beauty pageant are now under fire themselves from Bible-quoting church members who charge they applied a double standard.

Petitions began circulating after the elders dismissed the Rev. Charles Marshall, pastor of the West Hobbs Street Church of Christ. His daughter Becky, 17, won the Miss Spirit of America title and a $500 bond in Decatur, Ala., July 4.

One of the four elders, who have the authority to hire and fire, resigned at a prayer meeting Wednesday night.

Drive for McGovern is planned by 3 leaders

DETROIT (AP) — United Auto Workers President Leonard Woodcock says he and two AFL-CIO leaders plan a labor campaign drive in an effort to swing rank-and-file union support behind Sen. George McGovern, the Democratic presidential nominee.

Woodcock said Thursday that he will be joined on a labor campaign committee by Jerry Wurf, president of the American Federation of State, County and Municipal Employees, and Floyd Smith, president of the International Machinists and Aerospace Workers.

Woodcock's announcement came one day after AFL-CIO President George Meany led the labor federation's Executive Council to a 27-3 vote not to endorse either McGovern or President Nixon.

Smith, who has endorsed McGovern, voted with the majority in the Executive Council decision. Wurf, also a McGovern backer, voted against a position of neutrality.

Wurf said after the vote that it reflected "personal loyalties" within the AFL-CIO and was not a true index of support among union members for the Democratic ticket.

The AFL-CIO represents 13.6 million union members.

Woodcock predicted that union organizations representing more than five million workers would campaign for McGovern. That total will include the 1.4 million-member UAW, whose executive board voted unanimously Thursday to recommend endorsing McGovern. The UAW is not a member of the AFL-CIO.

The UAW action is the first major move by organized labor to get behind the McGovern campaign.

The Teamsters, not a part of the AFL-CIO, earlier aligned themselves with President Nixon. The Woodcock committee will thus attempt to fill the void left by the defection of the giant organizations, normally prime cogs in the Democratic election machinery.

Woodcock himself, originally a supporter of Maine Sen. Edmund S. Muskie, later said he would be comfortable with a McGovern candidacy.

His name was mentioned frequently at the Democratic National Convention as a potential vice presidential possibility, but both he and McGovern played down the idea.

Vietnamese capture Bong Son

SAIGON (AP) — The South Vietnamese command claimed today that its forces waging a new offensive on the central coast have captured the district town of Bong Son, but informants in the field reported the government troops were still 500 yards outside the largely deserted town.

One informant in Binh Dinh Province said Saigon's infantrymen were still maneuvering close to Bong Son and encountering "only token resistance," but "at this point it's impossible to say whether the enemy has pulled out or is dug in for a fight." He said most of the town's residents had fled when government forces abandoned it to the North Vietnamese on April 29.

Lt. Col. Le Trung Hien, chief spokesman for the Saigon command, told newsmen that two battalions numbering about 1,000 men "recaptured the district town of Bong Son at 12:55 p.m. with no enemy resistance inside the town." He said they were making a house-to-house search to root out any enemy sappers and snipers.

Hien said helicopters landed a third battalion on the northwestern edge of the town and reported two small fights about a mile southwest of Bong Son.

The Saigon command said the 10,000-man drive was launched Wednesday to regain control of Bong Son and two other district towns in Binh Dinh, 200,000 inhabitants and a rich rice harvest. The command said the troops had encountered only light resistance thus far.

U.S. B52 bombers made 12 strikes in support of the South Vietnamese troops closing in on Bong Son, dropping 300 tons of explosives on North Vietnamese and Viet Cong positions.

The counteroffensive is the second in the three-month campaign that President Nguyen Van Thieu announced on June 19 to retake all territory lost to the North Vietnamese in the Communist offensive and to drive Hanoi's forces out of South Vietnam.

The first counteroffensive began June 28, with the recapture of Quang Tri, South Vietnam's northernmost province, as its objective.

Associated Press correspondent Michael Putzel reported from the northern front that heavy fighting continued for a second day near the old My Chanh River defense line about 10 miles south of Quang Tri City.

North Vietnamese forces there have outflanked South Vietnamese paratroopers in Quang Tri and are threatening to cut Highway 1, the paratroopers' supply line to the south.

Putzel said North Vietnamese troops dug in 200 yards from the highway and were firing onto the road. The fighting was significantly heavier than on Thursday, he reported.

South Vietnamese forces were holding back while U.S. B52s dropped hundreds of tons of bombs on the North Vietnamese positions, and U.S. F4 Phantoms attacked the bunkers just off the highway with napalm.

Putzel also reported that the wreckage of a U.S. helicopter that was shot down May 2 south of Quang Tri had been found and the bodies of four Americans recovered.

North Vietnamese troops continued pouring shellfire on South Vietnamese forces pushing into Quang Tri City. One unit on the northeastern edges was hit with 150 shells. The Saigon command said casualties were light.

Court clears way for appeal on busing plan

CINCINNATI, Ohio (AP) — An appeals court has cleared the way for appeal of a desegregation plan which could result in the busing of 40,000 children in Detroit schools this fall.

The 6th U.S. Circuit Court of Appeals, meeting in extraordinary summer session, also rejected a challenge to the busing of school children in Pontiac, Mich.

It delivered both decisions Thursday.

A two-judge panel ordered a stay in a U.S. District Court Order that would have forced Detroit schools to purchase 295 buses by 5 p.m. Thursday. The decision followed a 95-minute hearing on the issues.

Judges Harry Phillips and George Edwards set Aug. 24 as the date for hearing an appeal of a desegregation plan issued by U.S. District Court Judge Stephen J. Roth in Flint, Mich.

The buses Roth ordered bought would have been used for implementing the first phase of an integration plan he ordered for Detroit and 52 suburban school districts.

An appeal of the plan was made possible Thursday when Roth issued certificates defining appealable questions. The circuit court had refused to consider an appeal pending definition of such issues.

Among appealable questions Roth listed were, "That a Detroit-only desegregation plan would be inadequate," and "That a metropolitan area cross-busing remedy is necessary."

The Circuit Court, in a three-page order, said there is an appealable question in the case "which never has been decided by this court or the Supreme Court." It did not specify the legal question.

The court upheld U.S. District Judge Damon Keith's dismissal of an appeal by the National Action Group against Keith's finding of de jure segregation in the Pontiac school system.

McGovern is challenged

AUGUSTA, Ga. (AP) — Sen. George McGovern's claim that he is "a disciple" of Dwight D. Eisenhower's defense policy has been challenged by the late president's son and widow.

The Washington Post originally published a letter by John Eisenhower commenting on the Democratic presidential nominee's claim. Mamie Eisenhower, the former president's widow, sent a copy of her son's letter from her Augusta home to the Augusta Chronicle and Herald along with a note which said in part:

"I'm enclosing a refutation my son wrote concerning Sen. McGovern's claim that he was a disciple of Gen. Eisenhower. This of course is erroneous."

"No matter how much Sen. McGovern may claim to have learned from President Eisenhower's defense policies, he seems to have grasped everything except the fundamentals," said John Eisenhower's statement.

McGovern referred to himself as "a disciple" of Eisenhower defense policy in a speech last month in Oklahoma City. He said President Eisenhower had always urged the country to maintain an adequate defense but had warned against the threat of a military-industrial complex.

John Eisenhower's letter said, "The only similarity in the military philosophy of McGovern and Eisenhower lay in the desire, shared by all, to keep military expenditures to the lowest levels possible so that those funds can be used along more constructive channels. But the order of priorities places the men poles apart."

The Republican president's son said Eisenhower "never subscribed to the belief that a unilateral force cut on the part of the United States would elicit similar moves on the part of the Communist world. Sen. McGovern, from what I read, feels differently."

John Eisenhower said McGovern, a congressman in 1960, opposed President Eisenhower's request that Congress appropriate about $4 billion (1975 value) in economic and military aid to foreign nations. He added that McGovern now would reduce such aid to $1.4 billion.

Final report on election case--

However, the following day, Arnold said he had decided to postpone filing charges, at least temporarily.

He said at that time he was considering petitioning Circuit Court Judge John Goodson of Texarkana to call a grand jury investigation.

Arnold told the Star on July 9, "I will either file charges in the matter or petition for a grand jury investigation."

He did neither, but subpoenaed 20 witnesses, questioned 18 last week, and the other two earlier this week.

His announcement that no charges would be filed followed his investigation.

However, other technical irregularities were reported to the prosecuting attorney's office, and were confirmed by the investigation.

Graves told the Star earlier this week that no list of judges and clerks as required by law was posted in either the sheriff's office or the office of the county clerk. A list of election officials was not published in the paper prior to the May 30 election, but Graves said that no statutory penalty for not publishing the list.

Parker refused to comment when asked early today if he planned to resign his post as head of the county Democrats.

Arnold's report reads as follows:

"From the testimony received, it is my opinion that the following events occurred on the night of May 30, 1972:

"That Donal Parker, acting in his official position as chairman of the Hempstead County Democratic Committee, was present in the County Clerk's Office after the polls had closed for the purpose of receiving the ballot boxes and reports of the vote tabulation of each box in the county; that during the evening, the ballot boxes were brought to him by the election officials of each township in the county. Several boxes had to be unlocked in order to secure the tabulation sheet of the voting in that box in order to report the votes cast for the various political offices.

"Late in the evening, Garland Kidd, committeeman of Spring Hill Township, delivered the Spring Hill ballot box to Mr. Parker. A discussion followed and Kidd advised he had won his bid for re-election as committeeman by three votes. Parker, having already received the absentee box, advised Kidd that he had lost the absentee box by a vote of 5 to 1 and, therefore, he had lost his election by one vote. After some discussion of the matter, Parker sent (for) Sheriff Henry Sinyard. The Sheriff went to the Clerk's Office and was present when a discussion followed wherein Mr. Kidd was not satisfied with the report of the absentee box. Parker explained to him again that because of the absentee vote, that Mr. Kidd had lost by one vote. The testimony of witnesses was that Donal Parker said 'Well, we'll just see'. That he reached into the absentee box and looked through the committeeman ballots and turned to Kidd and said 'No, that's right, you didn't get but one vote out of it'; that with this remark, Kidd was satisfied with the count.

Parker states that he did not inspect the ballots, but looked at the tabulation sheet in order to satisfy Kidd that there had been a fair and impartial election and that he had been defeated.

"The applicable law to this offense is Act 465 of 1969, Article 11, Section 5, which states: 'No person shall fraudulently change, alter or obliterate the poll books, or books of any election, or break any seals upon any ballot box, the voting machine or stub box, except as authorized by law'.

"That any violator shall be imprisoned in the State Penitentiary for not less than one year nor more than five years or pay a fine not to exceed $5,000.00 or both fine and imprisonment.

"It is my opinion from the testimony that there was a technical violation of the law in that a ballot box was opened in order to satisfy a candidate that he had been defeated in a fair and impartial election; that there was no attempt to change or alter any vote and that even the defeated candidate was satisfied with the vote count. I am of the opinion that there was no criminal intent on the part of Mr. Parker and that any offense by him was an error of judgment in an attempt to prove to the candidate that he received a fair vote. It is my honest opinion that if I were to use the powers of my office to prosecute any man under these circumstances it would be unjust to the man, his family and to the community. It is my opinion that there was no damage done to anyone and from the testimony, no criminal intent shown and, furthermore, it is inconceivable that any man would summon the sheriff as Parker did in this case to be present while he intentionally violated the law. I believe the sheriff's testimony and that the box was opened for reasons already stated and that this in itself shows no criminal intent.

"I also want to point out that the practice and custom of placing the tabulation sheets and summary report in the box with the ballots after they are counted by election officials and delivered to the chairman, whoever he may be, which causes him to have to open the box in order to report the vote of the box, places the chairman in the position of a technical violation of the law every time it is done. I would hope that this situation would be corrected in future elections even though it has been the custom and practice for many years, as in my opinion this is an incorrect procedure."

→ Under British law, children of 10 or over are considered capable of committing criminal offenses, but the minimum age for prosecution is slightly higher.

Hutto says plans for improvements in industry made

HOT SPRINGS, Ark. (AP) — State Correction Commissioner Terrell Don Hutto said Thursday night that plans are to direct his department's efforts toward expanding prison industry and the educational process in the state's prisons.

During his 13 months on the job, Hutto said the department primarily concentrated on administrative areas.

In an interview, Hutto said that awareness of problems existing in the prison system and public support to correct them during his time on the job enabled him to make more progress than anyone before.

Hutto said he acquired the job at a time when Arkansas began to recognize its problems, which he said were basically lack of financing and public support.

"It's hard to compare it because many of the things that have been accomplished couldn't have been done without financial support," the commissioner said. "I had more financial tools to work with than anyone before me has had."

Through financial assistance, he said he was able to bring in experienced administrators and virtually phase out the trusty guard system.

"The biggest problem I faced was the lack of personnel in the department, which resulted from a number of other problems, but the basic problem was the small number of personnel and experience."

He said prison living conditions were better now as far as necessities of life were concerned. "We provide the necessities that are needed," he said. "Prison is never a good place to be but it can be decent and humane and our prisons are definitely humane."

THE GENERATION RAP

—by Helen and Sue Bottel

Fashion "Notes" from a Male Sue And Helen:

I am just back from a California vacation and I have to say something that doesn't sync with a college junior—very male.

I saw more female bare backs than I really wanted to see this summer.

Why is it that girls and women who shouldn't, pick up on new styles first? (You saw the shortest skirts on Old Fatheads, and Droopyhips gets herself up in hot pants.)

But back to the subject—backless, braless dresses held up by one little strap at the neck. All-I've got to say is: STOP!

Halter tops not for dame who flops! —HARVEY

Harvey: Your fashion "not" duly noted. Here's another:

Backless-straps only for fatless backs. —HELEN AND SUE

Dear Rap:

I'm not into drugs, but I like to know what's going on. Lately I've heard about two new ones: sunshine and sopors. Are they replacing pot? —CURIOUS BUT NOT SAMPLING

Dear CBNS:

"Sunshine" is acid, said by pushers to be a superior type of LSD—said by a former drug user friend to be: Dangerous, unpredictable—with LSD, you never know which trip will mess up your mind.

"Sopors" are downers: non-barbiturate sleeping pills (Methaqualone). According to a recent wire release, sopors are a new fad at summer music festivals and they're hotter sellers than pot. They produce a floating, "out of it" sensation, which can usually be slept off (but not always). Habitually used with alcohol, they may cause serious brain damage. —RAP

P.S. Here's a letter we hesitated to print until we checked it out with a former user who says these reactions are possible—an in isolated cases—if the joint (sometimes not pot but parsley) is soaked in strong hallucinogenic chemicals, such as THC and STP.

It might never happen to you—but it COULD! Dear Rap:

This is not a cop-out but a plea to anyone who has ever thought about trying drugs: DON'T! Too many things can go wrong, even with supposedly harmless marijuana.

My friend got me some grass from a dealer off the street. We didn't know it had been mixed with something. It was my first try, and I'll never be quite physically right again. It did something to part of my brain and doctors don't give me much hope.

Here's what happens: I never know when it will start up, but I'll go blind for several hours. Then the numbness starts in my legs and works its way into my face and arms. I can't walk or feel. I've choked on my own saliva because I couldn't feel to swallow, and I've come close to swallowing my tongue. I've seen my husband break down and cry because there wasn't anything he could do but hold my arms down so I couldn't tear at myself when I get a wild flash-back. Once I broke my hand from pounding on the wall. I've retched and vomited and wanted to die. I've trembled and cried and screamed until I've passed out.

Sure, this is that "one-in-a-million" chance. But as long as there are street drugs, it can happen. Don't take it! And if you find time, stop and pray for me, please. —SOMEONE WHO KNOWS

Cleansing Grains

Solid cleansing grains are a helpful beauty aid for women with large pores, usually accompanied by oily skin. You mix the grains with water, massage gently into the skin and your pores will be cleaner and appear smaller. An astringent should be used after this to tighten them up.

New from Old

The new look for outerwear is reminiscent of another generation. Cardigan coats, smock topper, wrap jackets, dolman toppers and chemise coats are the latest in fashion. You may be able to find a few of these in an old trunk.

Grant signs ABA contract

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Travis Grant became the top scorer in college basketball history at Kentucky State, but he says he doesn't expect much trouble learning to play defense in the National Basketball Association for the champion Los Angeles Lakers.

Grant, the Lakers' first choice in the NBA college draft, signed a multi-year contract Thursday. Terms were not disclosed.

Hope All-Stars drop first game

In Babe Ruth District Tournament Action at Legion Field last night the Hope 15-year-old All-Stars were defeated by Malvern 7 to 2. Hope, giving up five runs in the first inning on five errors, could never get back into the game.

Jim Rhodes was the losing pitcher allowing five hits while striking out six. Rood was the winning pitcher giving up five scattered hits and striking out two men.

The Malvern team made only two errors while Hope made seven costly miscues, which proved to be the difference. Hope hitters were Rhodes with 2 singles, Sharp, Butler, and Robinson each collecting a single.

The Texarkana 15-year-old All-Stars eliminated the Clark County nine in the second contest of the night, 12 to 8. Kridler, a left-hander, was the winning pitcher going the route for Texarkana. He allowed 10 hits while getting 6 strikeouts. Clark County sent Nelson, Harper and McGaugh to the mound in their losing effort.

The Malvern 15-year-olds will now advance to the finals to be played Saturday night while Hope's 15 Year olds will drop to the losers bracket and must face Texarkana's team tonight at 8:30, with the winner of this game advancing to the finals to play Malvern.

The first game tonight will be the finals of the 13-14 year olds and Hope's All-Stars should take this one over Malvern.

Olympic boxer awaits decision on jail term

FORT WORTH, Tex. (AP) — Convict Bobby Lee Hunter had more to lose than any other fighter in the U.S. Olympic Boxing Trials — his temporary freedom — and the pressure of having to return to his jail cell became a true-to-life nightmare Thursday night.

"Hunter may have over-trained," said coach James "Red" Douglas after 17-year-old Tim Dement of Bossier City, La., pounded out a three-round decision in the flyweight bout.

"Hunter was too keyed up. Nobody else here had to go back to jail if they lost."

Hunter, serving the sixth year of a 20-year sentence at Mannin Correctional Institute in South Carolina for manslaughter, must return to prison unless the U.S. Olympic Boxing Committee designates him as a challenger in the trials' Aug. 5 boxoff at Bear Mountain, N.Y.

Winners in each of the 11 divisions here must defeat a challenger in the boxoff before a trip to Munich, Germany, and the Summer Olympics is assured.

Dement, a classic jab artist, bloodied the brawling Hunter's nose with a tattoo of left jabs.

Twice Hunter came within a winker of decking Dement.

"Hunter stunned me twice," Dement said. "He can hit hard and I was trying to stay away."

Douglas admitted "Dement gave Bobby a boxing lesson. It was the best I've seen Dement fight."

Hunter, a brawler with a dynamite left, never got untracked against the frail-looking 5-foot-10 Dement in the 117-round bout.

The 22-year-old Hunter was in tears as he made his way to the dressing room. He never said a word.

With Hunter's loss, the spotlight in the four-day trials which end Saturday night switched back to America's heavyweight hope for the Olympics, Navy Engineman 3-C Duane Bobick of Bowles, Minn., who battles blubbery 215-pound Leroy Jones tonight at Daniel Meyer Coliseum.

Nick Wells, Bobick's biggest challenger in the heavyweight division, scored an impressive victory Thursday night with a first-round knockout on Carl Bridges of San Francisco.

In the only big surprise Thursday other than Hunter's loss, Army Spec. 4 Peter Ranzav of Sacramento, Calif., dethroned Carlos Palomino.

Nolan is replaced

SAN FRANCISCO (AP) — Pitcher Ferguson Jenkins of the Chicago Cubs has been named to replace ailing Gary Nolan of Cincinnati on the 1972 National League All-Star team.

League President Charles S. Keenev said Thursday Nolan has a stiff neck and shoulder and will be forced to miss his regular turn Sunday against Pittsburgh.

Tigers whip Texas slugers; Braves down St. Louis Cards

Bill Slavback felt right at home on the range ... while making the Texas Rangers feel downright uncomfortable at home.

"He nipped another great game, didn't he?" exclaimed Detroit Tiger Manager Billy Martin after the 24-year-old rookie mastered the Rangers 5-1 with a five-hitter Thursday night.

Slavback, who only a couple of weeks ago was in the minor leagues, struck out 13 Rangers with an assortment of sliders and fastballs.

"Why did I strike out so many?" Slavback said. "It was just a matter of throwing a lot of good, two-strike pitches. I mixed my pitches pretty well tonight."

Included in his performance were four strikeouts of Texas slugger Frank Howard, a giant who inspires awe in most veteran pitchers, no less rookies.

In Thursday's other American League games, the Boston Red Sox took a doubleheader from the Oakland A's 2-1 and 4-3 in 11 innings; the Milwaukee Brewers edged the Minnesota Twins 2-1 and the Baltimore Orioles downed the Kansas City Royals 8-5 in 10 innings. Rain washed out California at New York.

In the National League, the Atlanta Braves defeated the St.

Louis Cardinals 6-3 and the New York Mets turned back the Los Angeles Dodgers 2-1.

Slavback, who won his fourth game in seven decisions and lowered his earned run average to 1.70, struck out the side in the first and the fifth innings and was in serious trouble only once when the Rangers scored their only run.

Marty Pattin pitched a four-hitter as Boston beat Oakland in the first game and Carl Yastrzemski forced in the winning run with a two-out, bases-loaded walk in the 11th inning to give the Red Sox the second game.

Joe Lahoud collected three hits, including a run-scoring double in the fourth inning, and rookie Garv Rverson scattered nine hits as Milwaukee edged Minnesota. Merv Rettenmund delivered a bases-loaded pinch single in the 10th inning to help Baltimore trim Kansas City.

Earl Williams smashed a two-run homer and Ralph Garr drilled a two-run double to power Atlanta over St. Louis. Williams' homer, No. 15, sailed over the center field fence after Hank Aaron had singled.

Willie Mavs slugged a tie-breaking double in the fifth inning, carrying New York over Los Angeles. Garv Gentry went the distance for the Mets, scattering seven hits, to record his fifth victory in 11 decisions.

Hope splits twin bill with Camden

Hope Junior American Legion split a double header with Camden No. 45, Tuesday night at Hope City Park. Hope won the first game by a score of 1 to 0 and lost the second by a score of 7 to 5.

In the first game Hope scored the only run in the top of the third when Paul Young hit a double and was then knocked in by Fincher.

Hope had four hits with Young leading getting two singles. Camden had two hits with Ezell and Taylor each getting a single.

Mike Downs was the winning pitcher striking out 11 men.

In the second game Hope was ahead 5 to 3 only to have Camden score four runs in the bottom of the seventh and win 7 to 5.

Hope got four hits with Fincher leading with two singles. Camden had six hits with Glover leading with two doubles.

The winning pitcher for Camden was Wilson striking out seven men.

The Hope Junior American Legion teams, sponsored by Young American Homes and coached by Larry Walker, now holds a 17-6 win-loss record.

Hope will play their first game in the District Tournament, at Sheridan, against Benton, Friday at 6:00 p.m.

Travs nip San Antonio

LITTLE ROCK (AP) — Dennis Parks drilled a two-run single to left to cap a three-run uprising in the eighth inning as the Arkansas Travelers nipped San Antonio 5-4 Thursday night in Texas League baseball action here.

The Travelers had trailed 4-2 going into the eighth after San Antonio had scored two runs in the seventh to break a 2-2 tie and take the lead.

Stoneman, the third of three Arkansas pitchers, was the winner. His record now is 3-4.

In other league games Thursday night, Memphis nipped Amarillo 9-8 in 10 innings. Amarillo nudged Memphis 11-9 in a replay of an earlier game. Alexandria clipped Midland 3-1 and Shreveport nudged El Paso 4-3 in 12 innings.

Arkansas will meet San Antonio again tonight in Little Rock.

Mets edge Dodgers

LOS ANGELES (AP) — Willie Mavs slugged a tie-breaking double in the fifth inning, carrying the New York Mets to a 2-1 victory over the Los Angeles Dodgers Thursday night.

Garv Gentry went the distance, scattering seven hits, for his fifth victory in 11 decisions. Al Downing, 6-5, took the loss despite allowing only four hits.

Solunar Tables

The schedule of Solunar Periods, as printed below, has been taken from Richard Alden Knight's SOLUNAR TABLES. Plan your days so that you will be fishing in good territory or hunting in good cover during these times, if you wish to find the best sport that each day has to offer.

Date	Day	A.M.		P.M.
		Minor	Major	Minor	Major
21	Friday	1:35	8:00	1:55	8:25
22	Saturday	2:10	8:45	2:40	9:10
23	Sunday	2:55	9:35	3:25	10:00

Cameramen, photographer believed dead

HUE, Vietnam (AP) — Two Singaporean cameramen for the American Broadcasting Co. and a South Vietnamese army photographer are lying on a battlefield south of the Quang Tri front and are believed dead, field informants said today.

ABC spokesmen said the Singaporeans were Terence Khoo and Sam Kai-lay and the Vietnamese was Tran Van Nghia.

Attempts to reach them were frustrated by heavy ground fighting and air strikes as North Vietnamese troops attempted to cut Highway 1 behind the South Vietnamese army's Quang Tri counter-offensive, field reports said.

A Korean photographer reported that he saw the three men walk 200 yards west of Highway 1 Thursday afternoon to film the fighting about 12 miles below the Quang Tri front. He said a North Vietnamese soldier popped up from a bunker and fired, hitting Nghia, then Sam shouted, "I'm hit." The Korean said Khoo shouted that he was all right, but when the Korean reached the highway, there was no sign of him.

Retained fluids cause discomfort

By Lawrence Lamb, M.D.

Dear Dr. Lamb—I have noticed that my body holds fluid. The doctor prescribed a water pill for me to use before my periods and this helped tremendously, but now I've started retaining fluid all the time, rather than just before my period. It causes me to have awful headaches and sluggishness. I get very irritable and short-tempered. I told my doctor this and he told me I could take the water pills every other day and they wouldn't hurt me. I would like to know what causes this condition and what could be done to correct it. I am on thyroid which I have to take for the rest of my life anyway and I'd hate to take these too since I'm only 35 years old.

Dear Reader—These are many reasons for retaining fluid. The premenstrual retention of fluid is pretty well known and, of course, is related to the hormones. What really happens is the body retains salts and the more salt the body retains the more water one accumulates. Other causes for retaining fluid include such things as heart disease, kidney disease and liver disease. I rather doubt you have any of these unless you have some symptoms which you didn't mention.

Why don't you try cutting down on the amount of salt you use? The water pills actually work by causing the kidneys to eliminate salt and thereby eliminate the excess water. Remember salt and water go together. The problem with water pills is they sometimes flush out other minerals. An ideal way to cut down on your salt is to stop using salt in cooking and don't add any free salt. There will still be quite a bit of salt in your regular diet, since there is sodium, or salt, naturally in meat, milk and, to a lesser extent, in vegetables. Even so this will make a tremendous difference in your salt intake. It's worth a try and it may decrease your need to take the water pills and improve your over-all feeling. Incidentally, rice and fruit are relatively devoid of salt and you may find them helpful in your effort.

Dear Doctor—I read an article by a doctor warning people of the radium used on watch dials. He claimed that the human body absorbed enough through these watches that the dials were harmful. Our son is contemplating buying a watch to be worn daily and also in scuba diving. There is a lot of luminous material on the watch. Is it safe to use this type of watch?

Dear Reader—Of course, it is or the Federal Trade Commission would have had it withdrawn from the market. Some luminous dials are produced by using small amounts of radium. This could be harmful to employ making the dials and continuously exposed but proper precautions are taken. There were some reports years ago of workers in watch factories who developed difficulties in using radium materials to make luminous dials. I don't know of a single case of anyone who has ever had radiation sickness from wearing a watch with a luminous dial.

By Oswald & James Jacoby

The only thing that can be said in favor of South's bidding was that he wanted to play the hand.

He did have a nice two-suiter but his hand was far stronger in support of his partner's rebid diamond suit and his real choice of bids should have been between a conservative five diamonds or an optimistic six.

Only a heart lead can beat six diamonds; no lead can bother a five contract.

West opened the king of clubs and continued the suit. South ruffed and studied the hand very carefully before leading to the third trick.

Then he came up with a winning safety play. He led a low trump!

East was on lead and could do nothing to keep South from taking the rest of the tricks. A third club would be ruffed in dummy; a heart, diamond or trump would be won; trumps would be drawn and dummy's diamond suit would be all winners.

Suppose South disdained the safety play and played out his three high trumps?

East would be left with a high trump. If South ran off diamonds East would simply ruff the third diamond lead and leave South with three losing hearts. If South led last trump East would win and the defense would run the rest of the clubs.

What do you do now?

A—Bid six clubs. Your partner does not have more than one heart and at worst the slam will depend on a finesse.

TODAY'S QUESTION

Instead of bidding five clubs, your partner has bid four no-trump. What do you do now?

BIDDING REQUIREMENTS NOTICE TO BIDDERS

1. Sealed bids will be received by the Hope School District No. 1-A until 2:30 p.m. July 27, 1972, in the office of the Superintendent of Schools at Hope, Arkansas for the construction of a Shop Building for Hope School District No. 1-A, Hope, Arkansas, at which time and place the bids will be publicly opened and read aloud. Any bids received after the stated time will be returned unopened.

2. Plans and Specifications may be examined without charge in the office of the Superintendent of Schools, Hope, Arkansas, and may be procured from the office of Weaver and Hiegel, Architects, Pyramid Life Building, Little Rock, Arkansas, upon deposit of $30.00 per set. Refunds on deposit will be made in full to bona fide bidders on not to exceed two (2) sets of documents, upon return of such documents within ten (10) days from receipt of bids. Additional sets of documents in excess of two (2) sets, and documents issued to subcontractors and non-bidders are available by depositing $30.00 per set, with refund at the rate of $15.00 per set, upon return of documents within ten (10) days from receipt of bids.

3. A cashier's check, bank certified check, or acceptable bidder's bond, payable to the Owner in an amount not less than 5 per cent of the bid submitted, must accompany each bid as a guarantee that, if awarded the contract, the bidder will promptly enter into a contract and execute such bonds as may be required.

4. All bidders shall be licensed in compliance with the provisions of Act 150 of the 1965 Acts of the Arkansas General Assembly.

5. Sealed bid shall conform to the requirements of 1957 Act 183 of the State of Arkansas, and Act 477 of 1961, an amendment thereto.

6. No bids may be withdrawn after the scheduled closing time for receipt of bids.

7. The Hope School District No. 1-A reserves the right to waive any informality in, or to reject, any or all bids.

Fund withdrawal program

By CARLTON SMITH

A source of retirement income that lets you draw on your capital, while keeping it intact—or nearly so? The systematic withdrawal programs now offered by most mutual funds have shaped up that way over the past 10 years, a study of 163 such programs shows.

You can't of course, make excessive demands on your capital if you don't want to see it dwindle. This study assumed the investor received a $50 check monthly from the fund, against a $10,000 investment in shares, beginning at the outset of 1962—$600 a year, or six per cent of the principal.

In the median fund 10 years later, at the end of 1971, the investor would still have had $9,167 worth of shares in his account—"invading" his capital to the extent of only $833 to produce monthly income totaling $6,000.

There is, as usual, a catch in anything that sounds as good as this. It isn't a sure thing. As is always the case when you invest in common stocks—either directly or via mutual funds—the risk of market declines is a factor. True, the 1962-71 decade was the mutual funds' worst since the depression of the 30s, encompassing three major slumps, but there's no lifetime guarantee against even longer and lower declines.

In addition, there's the possibility of picking the wrong fund. The figures given above are for the median or middle fund of 163 (those covered by complete 10-year data) in a tabulation of withdrawal program results by FundScope, a monthly fund guide published in Los Angeles. So while half the funds gave even better results than the median, the other half showed inferior performance.

There are remarkably few clunkers on the list, though. In only six of the funds would an investor have had less than $5,000 of his capital remaining, and in about 80 per cent of them (128 funds), he'd have had $7,500 or more at the end of the 10 years. In 67 of them, the original investment of $10,000—or more—would have remained intact. The "or more" ranged upward to a build-up of $23,618 worth of shares in one fund, after income payments totaling $6,230.

A withdrawal program gives you a chance to "have your cake and eat it" because your invested capital, less only your monthly payment, remains at work, appreciating enough (if you're fortunate) to keep up with or even pull ahead of your income checks.

Systematic withdrawal plans are relatively new, and haven't yet met some of the tests of time. Most fund managers will caution that they aren't for everyone. A minimum investment in shares is required—typically $10,000, but as little as $5,000 in some funds.

Most programs provide fixed-amount payments; for example, $50 a month when the value of shares owned is $10,000. A minority of the programs offer the option of variable payments, geared to the value of the shares. They're based either on liquidating a certain number of shares for each payment (thus, if share value increases, payments get larger), or on a certain percentage of total share value. If the original $10,000 worth of shares appreciated in value to $12,000, monthly payments would rise from $50 to $60.

In any case, you own the shares unrestrictedly and have full control. You can always sell out if you think the market omens are bad, and stick your money in the bank or buy bonds.

BE PARTNERS WITH GOD SUPPORT HIS CHURCH

Jesus said, "Because you are lukewarm, and neither cold or hot, I will spew you out of my mouth," Rev. 3:16. If that's your bracket you better start getting up some temperature about life's values . . . home, children, school, church, God, right and wrong.

If Jesus died to save you, can't you do some living for Him? Do you believe, "Life is real, life is earnest and the grave is not its goal; dust thou art, to dust returnest, was not spoken of the soul"? Are you lukewarm? Why not get hot for God? Put righteousness first.

The CHURCH points the way to GOD and RICHER, FULLER LIVING

Air mass still anchored in east

THE ASSOCIATED PRESS
A steamy, stagnant air mass
has strained electric power supplies and caused pollution alerts remained anchored over the Eastern seaboard today with no relief expected for a few more days.

The National Weather Service
forecast more temperatures in the high 80s to middle 90s, a situation which sapped the reserves of electric utilities and led to blackouts or brownouts
in scattered areas Thursday.

The week-long heat wave over the populous East was blamed on a Bermuda high that stretched to the Mississippi River valley and pumped humid tropical air up from the Gulf.

With the listless air, pollutants tended to collect and increased to dangerous levels in some areas.

In the Pittsburgh area, a first stage pollution alert forced industry to cut back operations.
Eye irritation and shortness of breath were common complaints, especially in the downtown section.

An emergency air pollution alert was in effect for four Ohio counties in the Ohio River valley steel-making region. State attorneys filed precautionary injunctions to bar industries

from violating the order.

A pollution alert was extended through today in Washington, D.C.

Rain showers brought relief to the New York metropolitan area during Thursday evening, washing the air of many pollutants and dropping temperatures to the low 70s. The respite was expected to be brief.

A spokesman for the New York Power Pool said it borrowed from Ontario, Canada, again Thursday to provide a potential supply of 20 million kilowatts.

Consolidated Edison Co. cut back voltage 5 per cent in New York City and Westchester County for two hours in midafternoon to prevent a massive blackout after a major power link tripped about 70 miles north of the city.

The Philadelphia Electric Co.
said that city's electrical demands set a record Thursday,
but no breakdowns or difficulties were reported.

In the Washington area, the Potomac Electric Power Co. reported record output with electricity use up 10 per cent from last summer's peaks.

Commonwealth Edison Co.,
which serves seven million customers in northern Illinois, reported a record 11,164,000 kilowatts issued between 1 and 2 p.m. CDT as the temperature hit 91 degrees.

Finally, the temperature reached 94 degrees in the southeastern Pennsylvania town of Chester Thursday, but it looked like Christmas.

Dozens of cartons of just-delivered artificial Christmas trees were stacked in front of a department store, causing traffic patrolman Walter Hoyle to note: "Cooler weather must be ahead."

He didn't say when.

GET A DONKEY could be this observer's advice to toiling contestants in the Tour of Italy challenged by some rough back roads near the southern town of Cosenza.

One man's dirty air could be a 'breeze'

LOS ANGELES (AP) —
While portions of the Atlantic Seaboard suffered through air pollution alerts, Los Angeles residents went blithely about their business, graphic evidence that one man's dirty air
can be another's summer breeze.

It was generally a nice day Thursday in Los Angeles — the city whose name is synonymous in some minds with smog.
Workers downtown could see the Santa Monica Mountains
through the smog and the peak metropolitan ozone content in the air hit a mild .08 part per million (ppm). The top carbon monoxide level was 11 ppm.

But four times this year and 21 times last year school children were kept indoors in some areas when ozone, an irritant gas associated with pollution, reached .35 ppm. That is approximately equivalent to the "oxidant" levels that brought air pollution alerts Thursday in the District of Columbia and Maryland and in Connecticut
Wednesday and early Thursday.

More than 12 times in the last two months in metropolitan Los Angeles carbon monoxide levels have soared to peak readings above 15 ppm, approximately similar to the eight-hour average of 16 ppm in Springfield, Mass., that brought a first-stage alert Wednesday.

Although an Associated Press survey Thursday seems to indicate that Los Angeles residents are old hands at coping with dirty air, it points up,
more importantly, the diversity of air pollution alert levels and relief measures that exist across the nation.

This is because even though federal minimum guidelines were handed down last year by the Environmental Protection Agency, local governments can set more severe standards.

Los Angeles County calls an alert if carbon monoxide reaches 50 ppm peak reading. The California Air Resources Board, which sets statewide standards but doesn't govern
local pollution control agencies, calls an alert if carbon monoxide reaches 10 ppm average for 12 hours.

Alerts mean different things to different cities. But generally, a first-stage alert means some heavy industries must curtail operations, automobile traffic is discouraged and other anti-pollution measures, often voluntary in nature, are urged.

Then comes a second-stage alert with mandatory shutdown

of some industry, electrical voltage reductions to cut power consumption and, perhaps, banning some automobile traffic.

The final, emergency stage could lead to banning of all but fire and police vehicles, shutdown of industry and evacuation of people.

Alert levels in eastern cities
show more conformity, checks
with Environmental Protection Agency officials indicated.

In the Boston area, for example, EPA officials said in telephone interviews, a first-stage alert is called if nitrogen dioxide — the brown part of smog — reaches .6 ppm for one hour or .15 ppm for 24 hours. In Philadelphia, however, an alert is called only after an average of .2 ppm for 24 hours. In New York, a first-stage alert would be called at an .8 ppm average for one hour or .2 ppm for 24 hours.

In Los Angeles, an alert
would be called if the "nitrogen oxides" reached a peak of 3 ppm, although this pollution measure includes other nitrogen compounds besides nitrogen dioxide.

EPA officials and other air pollution experts admit that medical evidence about when air pollution begins to harm health is skimpy and open to wide interpretation.

"No wonder you're confused.
You should be," grumbled a Los Angeles County air pollution official. Los Angeles air pollution control experts have been critical of federal standards and the diversity of alert levels.

"The alert basically is pinned to the health effects of smog," Ray Werner, an EPA official in New York said. "But eventually as these minimum standards are agreed to you'll see uniform alert levels."

TELEVIEW THROUGH
GLASS WALL

LONDON (AP) — A special
all-glass wall developed in Britain makes it possible to view and televise squash games from behind the back wall.

The wall is made of plates of 1/2-inch toughened glass, which is as much as five times stronger than ordinary window glass of the same thickness.

The problem of reflections and sighting the ball against a transparent surface were solved by etching vertical, parallel lines into the inner, or court, surface of the lowest 2 1/2 feet of the glass. Most times, the ball hits the back wall below this level, the manufacturer found.

Banacek: a new detective type

HOLLYWOOD (AP) — Television has come up with an antidote to all those Polish jokes:
"Banacek."

T. Banacek, as portrayed by George Peppard in this new NBC television series, is Polish and proud of it.

People mispronounce his name so often—it's Ban-a-check—that his chauffeur suggests he change it. The driver says, "You don't look Polish.
Nobody'd know it." Banacek answers: "I would."

Banacek is a Boston-based modern day bounty hunter, a man who specializes in "restorations." He recovers people and things that are lost for a cut of the insurance money. He lives in a Beacon Hill townhouse, collects antiques and drives a 1941 Packard Darrin.

At the Los Angeles coliseum, where a football sequence was being filmed, Peppard said,
"The Poles are a minority and when you do something on a minority you represent all minorities in a way. I don't think we should forget we're a land of immigrants."

"Banacek" is a twist upon the traditional whodunit. The essence of each episode is how-did-it-happen. In the football episode a pro ball carrier disappears on the field under a pile of tacklers. When they get up only the carrier's helmet and the ball are in sight.

"We give no clues because if we gave just one you could figure out the solution," he said.
"It can be figured out. It's absolutely logical and feasible."

"The thing that pleases me
most is the individualism Ban-acek displays," he said. "The fact that he likes older things rather than new things. The objects we surround ourselves with reveal a great deal about a man."

"Banacek is an individual.
Call him a loner, a bounty hunter, he's still individual and independent and distinct. He's warm and humorous. I'm drawn to that because of all the cold-eyed men of steel I've played."

"Producers tend to typecast an actor," he said. They go looking for someone they think is most like the role they want to cast. Most people don't remember, or don't think about it, but I played a relaxed character in 'Breakfast at Tiffany's.' But after the success of 'The Carpetbaggers' I haven't played a character with much warmth."

Peppard said he was intrigued by his first opportunity to play a continuing character.
"When you do a character in a picture that's the end of the character," he said. "He doesn't die but the story ends.
As an actor it's fascinating that this character goes on, to meet other people and do other things."

"Once you're into a series
you don't need the introduction and exposition you do in a picture," Peppard said. "The people who watch will know what he's about so in a way you can play differently, you can play upon their knowledge."
